Patient:
You have been referred to USA Health drive-thru testing for coronavirus

Remember, most people with cold-like symptoms, whether or not caused by coronavirus, have mild symptoms. These usually resolve on their own and only require symptomatic care to relieve the cough and fever. For these people, drive-thru testing is FAST, EASY, and SAFE and protects you and others from potential exposure.

If you are significantly short of breath, chest pain or have a high fever (over 102.5) or have other medical illnesses such as COPD or emphysema that put you at high risk, mobile testing may not be for you and we recommend you call your primary health care provider for additional advice. If you think you are having an emergency, call 911 or go to the nearest Emergency Department. Please be sure to call ahead to the hospital so they are anticipating your arrival.
